SAMUEL SEWALL TO SAMUEL SHEPARD.

To Mr. Saml Shepard. July 21, 1707.

Sr.—The above is a Copy of my Order formerly sent you, which I now again Refresh. I find also that in mine of May 26, I expressly directed you to send me the Money by Remitting it by good Bills of Exchange; for which reason I had some expectation of receiving them by this Post, and am concern'd that I do not. I was surpris'd at one word in yours of June 20th vis. "But (Sir) "when I have it, I know not how to remit it to Boston, "unless this Contrivance will take." And then you mention your desire that Capt. Wilson should sell your Land at Dorchester call'd Chapman's Island &c. I have now put you in a fair way to Remit it, and order you so to do. I stand in great need of it to discharge my just Debts; and therefore consented to the [Stripping] of it to so small a Substance; because of my urgent Necessity. I have put great Trust in you; do not deceive me; but speedily and well finish what you have well begun, in which you will oblige your friend and Serv't

SAMUEL SEWALL TO REV. JOHN WILLIAMS.

To Mr. John Williams of Dorfield, in Answer to his of August 18.

Aug. 21, 1707.

Sr.—I have yours of the 18th of this Month. I hope, before now you have the Sermons sent you p Mr. Pavy of Hadfield.

I heartily pray to God for his Blessing upon and with you in the resettlement of your family. But I cannot pray in faith for God's Blessing upon your Marriage of your Cousin-German, because to me it is at least dishonourable, whether it be lawful or no. Your Canada Neighbours will be shooting at you; and I would fain have you be invulnerable; and not give them any occasion to blasphe'm. The Law of Marriage was in the Paphists hands; and without question, they went too far in their Prohibitions; viz. to the fourth and fourth degree. As I understand it, they forbad the Marriage of First, Second, and Third Cousins. But then I fear the English Nation went beyond the Golden Mean, towards the other extremity, when by the Statute of the 32. of H. 8. Cap. 38. they expressly made the Marriage of Cousin-Germans lawful. Cousin Germans are near of kin. Either his Uncle or his Uncle's Son may redeem him; or my that is right of kin unto him. Lev. 25. 49. Mr. Owen in his Exposition upon Heb. 13. 1. hath this passage:—

"Brotherhood with respect to a near Stock, as the Children of the same Parents; which in the Scripture is constantly extended unto Grandfathers also." p. 203.

If Cousin Germans (or Brothers and Sisters in the forementioned sense) may lawfully marry, By the same rule, a man may marry his great Aunt; and a man has done so; and being call'd in question by the Spiritual Court; he was rescuel and exculpated by the forementioned Statute. Tell it not in Gath.

To say that the Marriage of Cousin Germans is not Incest, is to beg the Question; there are degrees of Incest. If the Gentlewoman you mention and children, they would be Second Cousins to your children; which,

SAMUEL SEWALL TO THOMAS RUGGLES.

To Mr. Thomas Ruggles, at Saybrook.

8: 7, 1767.

Sir, — I have sent the five volumes of Pole's Synopsis Criticorum, to Mr. Simon Smith, for the use of your Collietian School. 1 They have been transported from Boston to Woodbury; and back again. If it please God they get well to Saybrook; I would have them rest there, and move no more. My Service to you, and the Gentlemen, desiring your Acceptance of this Token of my being a Well-wisher to the Prosperity of your College; though possibly, it may import the less increase of our own: I hope the Interest of Christ's Kingdom in general, will be promoted; which is that we should aim at. I am, Sir, your humble Servt.

To Mr. Samuel Sheldon at Woodbridge.

Dec 26, 1767.

Sir, — I writ to you formerly about the Thirty pounds of mine remaining in your hands, desiring and ordering you to send it by the Post to Capt. B. Faneuil Merchant at New-york. Yours of the 30th of October is the last I have received from you. But this morning, Mr. Andrew Faneuil's Servant comes to me, and tells me from his Master, that you decline delivering the Money to the post, except I will run the venture of it and pay the Post for carrying it: Both which were fully comprehended in my former order. However, if it seem not so to you, I do expressly agree to those Conditions; The Post's Receipt shall be your Discharge, and I will pay the Postage of it to Capt. Faneuil. If you think you can send more safely by some honest neighbor of yours, you may take that course. Upon my receiving Advice of the Money being paid to Capt. Faneuil, I will pay five pounds to your Order here in this Town. And if you think not that a suitable Acknowledgment of your Service, I will add to it. Only let the Matter be speedily accomplished, because I want the Money. I have long since left a Funeral Sermon with Mrs. Perry for you; Mr. Calvin's Verses are annexed. Here is no News, but what the News-Letter will prevent my telling you. Mr. Chiever is yet alive, 1 and teaches School. His Granddaughter Chiever of Marblehead came to him lately upon a visit, died suddenly, and was buried from his House; was about
